Reflections on Ascension of the Lord

By: Fr. Uju

Following liturgical trends today would have been celebrated as the 7th Sunday of Easter; but in the archdiocese as well as in some other local churches throughout the world we celebrate it as the Solemnity of the Ascension of the Lord. Church catechesis taught us that it took place forty days after the resurrection of the Lord, hence the name, "Ascension Thursday." Attentive to the post-resurrection narratives one can say that Jesus was doing his best to convince the followers that the crucified Jesus is the resurrected Christ and that it was no fake news but a good news with scriptural validation. Assured of their comfort-level to this reality, he ascended back to the Father in heaven where he sits at the right hand of divine majesty—an imagery of coming to power after victoriously accomplishing the task the Father sent him to do in the world. Something we know for sure is that he did not ascend to abandon his followers but to, as it were, make room for the promise of the Father—the Holy Spirit—to descend and to empower them for the task for which they were called. That task is going throughout the whole world proclaiming the good news, which is that of God, who is love. They were to witness this enwrapped in what they heard and saw. Something more and worth considering about the ascension is how it supports the saying that this world is not our eternal home. Heaven is; and Jesus said he will go to prepare a place for us. Therefore, from the words of the angels who spoke to the disciples as they looked on, we know that ascension is not an invitation to bewildered-attention, but a confirmation of the reality of a promise—that there is a place we are going; and that our ladder to reach there is in not just in looking up to the sky everyday but witnessing to Jesus and bringing others to know it, love it, and commit to it. As it was for the apostles from the mount of ascension, so it is for us as friends of God (Theophilus). As we join in praying for the outpouring of the Holy Spirit, begun since Friday, let us also pray for our mothers. May God bless them abundantly and give us the joy of honoring them so that their labors of love will not be in vain.
